

Your comfort zone has terrible rhythm.

A leadership keynote on facing fear, handling change and choosing your next step. A real story, the Wheel of Life, and a room that ends up on its feet. Nobody needs to be able to dance.

WHAT PEOPLE LEAVE WITH

Energy in the room. Something to use on Monday.

- 01 Notice the pattern. Name the stories that make the safe choice feel like the only sensible one.
- 02 Shrink the stretch. Turn a big leap into one next step that is uncomfortable but doable.
- 03 Move before you feel ready. Confidence follows action.
- 04 Find the spoke that moves the rest. The Wheel of Life shows where to put effort first.

FORMATS

Shaped to your room and calendar

45–60 min Keynote. Story, tools, and the room on its feet. An opener or a closing act.

90 min Keynote + workshop. Adds guided table work on a real stretch people have been avoiding.

Half day Leadership session. For intact teams: coaching-style work on the decisions they keep postponing.
